Notes for peer reviews

The following notes are presented as general guidelines for a report. Freely formulated assessments that cover the relevant issues are also welcome.

A. General:

1. Theoretical or social relevance of the submission.
2. Density of the empirical material.
3. Connections between data and theoretical issues.
4. Conclusiveness of the argument.

B. Form and flow of the Article:

1. Structure of the whole.
2. Coverage of the relevant literature and the integration of theoretical issues.
3. Quality of the prose and the fluidity of the reasoning.

C. Assessment:

1. The submission is completely ready for publication?
2. Acceptable with minor revisions.
3. Unacceptable for publication

Which of these three is recommended should be unequivocal.

If the submission is recommended for publication:

1. Which aspects require attention.
2. How might the paper be strengthened?
